Training from InConsult

In today's business environment, managers across all levels of the organisation face a range of new challenges, issues and risks.

Whilst traditional management training helps to build core management skills, today's manager must possess another set of skills to help protect, strengthen and build a more resilient organisation.

That is why InConsult offers a distinguished range of training programs to build and refine the risk management, governance and resilience skills of today's manager.

Our training is delivered by experienced and highly qualified trainers who create an engaging environment and encourage group participation.

To maximize training effectiveness, our training is based on specific learning objectives and includes interactive activities, videos, case studies and/or games.

We offer the option of both public training and in-house training that can be modified to meet specific organisational development needs.

Risk Management

Our Introductory Risk Management Training is an excellent way to help introduce and reinforce the fundamental concepts of risk management to help improve people's skills and confidence in identifying, assessing, controlling, treating and monitoring risks.

This course is designed to help managers and non-risk professionals demystify and simplify key concepts of risk management using the AS/NZS ISO 31000-2009 risk management standard as the foundation of the course.

Risk Appetite in Practice

Developing an appropriate risk appetite statement can be a challenge.

Our Risk Appetite in Practice Training is designed to help people grasp the basic and most important concepts of risk appetite setting, communicating and monitoring.

Fraud & Corruption Awareness

Experience shows that the most common way internal fraud and corruption is detected is by staff. That is why a key element of a best practice fraud & corruption management framework is employee awareness.

Our Fraud and Corruption Awareness Training is designed around Australian Standard AS8001 Fraud & Corruption Control and aims to raise the general level of fraud awareness amongst all front line managers and staff.

Fundamentals of Governance

An effective governance framework defines how an organisation is directed and controlled and therefore the foundation for successful organisations.

This course helps improve people's awareness of sound governance and uses the AS 8000 Good Governance Principles standard as the foundation of the course.

Business Continuity Awareness

How well do the people that you rely on during a crisis to implement your business continuity plan (BCP) understand their roles and responsibilities?

Our Business Continuity Awareness Training is designed to acquaint key people with your BCP and help people responsible for leading; implementing and managing a business continuity management program understand and apply the basic concepts of business continuity to improve organisational resilience.

APRA Prudential Framework

For an APRA regulated entity, not following documented systems and processes will not only expose the organisation to potential risks, it may result in a breach of the insurance regulators mandatory requirements.

This course will provide an overview of APRA, discuss the impact of the HIH failure on regulation and introduce the APRA regulatory framework to participants and highlight the important regulatory requirements and their impact on insurers.

Ethical Behaviour (Code of Conduct)

Many organisations and especially Government agencies have standards of ethical behaviour to maintain.

The purpose of this course is to help better equip key people to understand and effectively manage code of conduct issues as part of their everyday role.

GIPA

The Government Information Public Access Act (GIPA) has a significant impact on the way in which NSW Government agencies provide public access to government information.

It is critical for agencies to ensure that staff understand the provisions of GIPA and the obligations that it imposes upon them. It is also critical that agencies develop appropriate policies and procedures to enable compliance with the legislation.

Creative Thinking Workshop

Does your organisation suffer from groupthink? Why not help your managers think differently to explore new ideas and generate new possibilities.

This course covers a range of creative thinking techniques and is perfect for organisations looking to enhance people's creative thinking capabilities as part of a formal management development and leadership program
